Where are we now?

The screenshot displays the Alma library system interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs for 'Most Visited' and 'Getting Started'. The main header includes the Alma logo, a search bar, and navigation links for 'Tasks', 'Analytics', and 'Currently at: University Library - JBM Ac...'. Below this is a 'Repository Search' section with a search bar containing 'the man who mistook' and a 'Go' button. The search results are displayed in a list format, with columns for 'Barcode', 'Library', 'Location', 'Call Number', 'Description', 'Temporary Location', and 'Status'. The results are sorted by 'Rank'.

Feedback for Natural Sciences work:

“The lists produced ... were extremely helpful for us in identifying resources...”

Given the interdisciplinarity of the programme... it was good to have the absolute resource data and especially the comparator data for other institutions ...to get a feel for the types of materials we should consider to support the programme...

We have a solid basis for making any necessary purchase decisions.”
